REBEL SPIRIT IN '76

This is it. The year everyone's been talking about. It's the Bicentennial birthday of our country. Amidst the classes, dances, and homework, it came upon us. This is a year of celebration.

South has had plenty to celebrate besides the Bicentennial. The '75-'76 year brought us seven new teachers. Through the noise and vibrations of the construction going on continuously, a new graphic arts area, an extended art department, an expanded library, a new band shell, and a new teachers work area were brought about.

Student activities widened, too. The stamp, coin, chess, and magic clubs grew. More games were added to the girls' sports schedule. A Pom Pon squad was also added to after school activities.

The world around South School was changing throughout the year. In the November elections, new City Council members and new Board of Education members were elected.

Nationally, the people were still concerned with inflation and unemployment problems as the 1976 Presidential campaigns got into full swing.

So pull up a chair, get comfortable, and giggle to your heart's content as, in the following pages you see our "Rebel Spirit in '76."

FACULTY

Administration Keeps The Spirit In South

Keeping a tight schedule of their duties and responsibilities, the administrators and teachers strive for a sense of spirit and friendship among the students at South.

The principal and his assistants helped maintain discipline as well as supervised all athletics and other activities. By striving to have a better relationship with students the administration has kept the school alive with Spirit. This truly is "Rebel Spirit in '76."

The secretaries, Mrs. Lois Schallhorn, LEFT, and Mrs. Donna Dalenburg, FAR LEFT, are a great help to South students and administration with their typing abilities and other talents they share with us. BELOW: Our three counselors here at South School, Mrs. Winifred Young, Miss Evelyn Vassaw and Mr. Paul Schaefer, help students with many problems they may have. Their busy schedule also consists of administering the various testing programs requited by the state department.

BELOW: Our teachers enjoy the potluck dinner put on especially for them to relax and get to know each other. CENTER BOTTOM: Miss Val Stamper, guidance and girls' gym teacher, pauses before she goes into her eager guidance class.

Teachers Offer Variety

Each year the custodians and staffs have done a fine job in keeping South in order. They have swept halls, classrooms, and cleaned up after students. It was a privilege to have them serving us this past year.

ACADEMICS

Students Show Initiative

Social studies' students all have at least one semester of social studies. They learn about government, geography, and history. Students look forward to special reports, collages, debates, and discussions which help to make social studies interesting, along with regular curriculum. The Ethnic Festival, directed by Mrs. Wendt, and Miss Lange's Freedom Room really gave students an extra boost.

Arts, crafts, speech communication, and drama give students a chance to learn more about what they enjoy, while helping each individual to decide his or her future. Speech communication students who aren't in the annual three-act play help backstage if they want to. Miss Brown's art class designs posters for plays, the Spectacular, dances, and sales. Mr. Hale's crafts class works with paper mache and clay. These classes help students develop hobbies and make wise choices about their futures.

ABOVE: The eighth grade drama classes entertains groups of children with puppet plays. LEFT: Under the supervision of Dr. Lloyd Jensen the stage band has proved to be supreme in their field. Listed according to the instruments they play are: Saxophone: John Adams, Ken Frederick, Brian Griffore, Tim Pendell, Clark Rux, James Pierce. Clarinet: Doug Gibbs, Karen Stanek. Cornet: Jeff Dezelsky, Matt Gover, John Huebler, Tom Jessmore, Larry Schuler, Mike Nowland. Trombone: Tom Christians, Steve Ostermann, Paul Cherry. String Bass: Kathy Anderson. Piano: Sharon Peters. Percussion: Michelle Johnson, Ed Gibbs.

Classes Help Prepare Students For Future

Physical fitness is playing a more significant role at South every year. This year we have on our physical education schedule, intramural games, physical fitness testing, and gym classes. We are also fortunate to have purchased a weight machine for the boys' gym. The Health Education classes have also played an important part in teaching students about first aid and health care.

The ninth grade students take part in Career Education classes which help them to explore various careers and decide about their futures. Some seventh grade students participate in guidance class which prepares them for life at South.

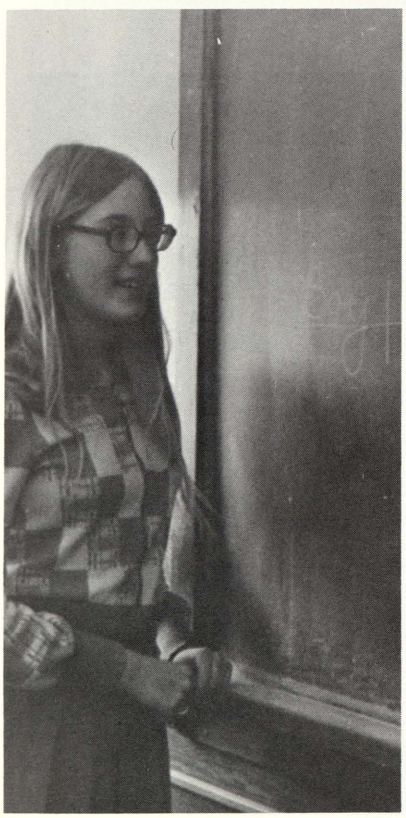
Science, Math, And English Classes Make Life More Interesting



Science, math, and English are a major part of the school year for almost every student.

Science is required for both seventh and ninth graders. The classes cover earth-science and various aspects of weather and the metric system.

Everyone has a math class. Eighth and seventh graders have general math along with some ninth graders. These classes review the basic principles of working with numbers such as long division, square roots, and multiplying fractions. Many ninth graders chose algebra or introductory algebra which includes more complicated steps in solving problems.

Grammar, literature, and poetry are approached in the English department. All students do book reports, write compositions, and read required novels and short stories.

Good old-fashioned grammar is emphasized and students' ears echo with the rules and regulations of the English language.

Industrial Arts Open Minds

The vocational classes that are taught every day are helping us with our careers. The classes such as drafting, printing, woodshop, and plastics are improving students' abilities to be drafters, printers, and craftsmen. These classes have a variety of different things for the students to do to improve their talents.

Jim Leddy works at the printing press in Mr. Carlyon's printing class, which is available as an elective to boys and girls in the seventh, eighth, and ninth grades.

STUDENT LIFE

Presidents' Council Makes Things Happen

The Presidents' Council forged ahead this year under the leadership of President Kelly Bellinger. As Mr. Ekelof supervised, the Presidents' Council was responsible for many activities. The activities included, again, the support of our overseas student Eunice Sathiabalan of India, and the fall, Christmas, and spring dances. They were also helpful in purchasing a pop machine.

Student Staff Aid Faculty

Student staffs are very helpful in many ways. Office girls run errands, answer phones, and deliver absense bulletins. The library staff helps check out books for students, and shelve books. Cafeteria workers serve students, help prepare food, and wash dishes. They also serve elementary students who eat hot lunches here every day. The student who raises the flag must stay after school to lower it. These students help to make South a better school.

Staffs Provide Service

Actors Make Children Laugh

Ninth grade drama classes presented the Children's Theater play Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs of the Black Forest earlier this year. The play was given to approximately 2,800 youngsters. Every elementary school in the city was invited.

Onions In The Stew: A Remarkable Performance

As the curtains opened and the audience quieted, a cast of twenty-six students performed "Onions In The Stew," directed by Mrs. Brenda Palmateer. It might have seemed that everything ran smoothly, but there were plenty of problems. Because of construction of the band shell they didn't get the stage until two weeks before the performance. Complicatiions added on as snow days and the absence list grew.

This year's ninth grade journalism staff has gone through several difficulties and moments of relief in the publication of the SIS BOOM, SOUTHERN GRAFITTI, and REBEL REVIEW. The staff, under the supervision of Mrs. Helen Sparks, has been busy meeting deadlines, taking pictures, and creating layout designs. The SIS BOOM has earned five first place awards in previous years and this year's staff worked especially hard in hopes of adding another first place award to South School's already large collection.

Journalism Staff Reflects On Past Year

Mr. Werner Rosenbaum of the Saginaw News gives the ninth grade journalism staff a guided tour through the Saginaw News Building. Here, they are looking very interested as he shows them the final step taken before the papers are delivered to the carriers.

Vocal Music Is Exciting

Vocal music plays an important part in the lives of many students at South School. The program, led by Miss Mary Ellen Gase, gives the students a chance to express themselves through singing. In their winter and spring concerts they gave excellent performances. Although they had a fun time singing, the audience got great pleasure out of listening to them.

Instrumentalists Overcome Difficulties

South's bands are directed by Dr. Lloyd Jensen and have tooted their flutes in various concerts and contests throughout the year.

Mr. David Austin directs the orchestra which has performed in the winter and spring concerts and various district and state contests.

South was honored this year with an invitation for the Symphonic Band to participate in the Tri-State Musical Festival in Enid, Oklahoma.

Bicentennial Southern Spectacular:

A Sign Of The Times

Masters and Mistress of Ceremonies Matt Gover, Jeff Picard, and Diana Maas led the show as the 1976 Bicentennial Southern Spectacular got under way on February 24 and 25.

This event which is held every other year, was once held annually as the Spendless and Seemore circus in 1931. It began to be called the Southern Spectacular in 1957. In 1963 they started presenting it every other year.

Even this year, carnival air was in the atmosphere. Cotton candy and pop were sold in the halls. Excited performers hurried through the halls to get to this room and that while former South students reminisced about Spectaculars of the past.

This year's Spectacular had 19 acts. Those not shown here were: South School Symphonic Band, Edith Ann (impersonation by Pam Young), "76" Revolution (gymnastics routine by Karen Keene), Spirit of "76" (tap dance by Carolanne Killmer, Heidi Tilot, and Linda Benzenberg), Stageband, The Great Escape (magic act by John Hall), Stumblebumbs, The All American Football Game (cheerleaders' comedy skit), Freedom on Wheels (unicycle act by Chris Nelson and Linda Shafer), "I Wanna Be Free" (vocal solo by Diane Miller), Madrigals, and a choral reading "A Birthday Anthem for America."

The Spectacular included over 100 performers and many more than that included in preparation, publicity and staging. Mrs. Brenda Palmateer and Mrs. Anita Wendt worked hard as sponsors and the Bicentennial Southern Spectacular was a smashing success.

Showing a little rythym and a lot of leg were the "Rebel Rockettes": Pam Young, Denise Flattery, Elizabeth Ballien, Kim Johnson, Jenny Willet, Lori Perry, Sarah Lippert, Sherry Uloth, Karen Goodrow, Jean Fowler, DaAnna Burton, Lisa Hartman, Kathy Lee, Terry Knapp, Sharon Peters, and Jule Simpson.

Students Participate In Clubs

South's ninth grade football team took third place this year with a record of four wins and three losses.

Jeff Feldt was top scorer for the team while other outstanding players on offense were Steve Gallagher, Tom Hunt, and Bob Hoffman.

Some of the best players on defense were Tony Coyer, Tim Wressel, Steve Ostermann, and John Adams.

8th Grade Players Tie For Second Place

This year's eighth grade football team was quite successful, tying for second with North, Eddy, and Central. John Flynn was the leading scorer of the year with 30 points. Craig Burnell trailed behind with 12 points. Mark Leslie led the team with receptions. Defensive linemen were very tough, putting a terrible rush on the opposing teams. The offensive line provided outstanding pass protection. Coach Glen Call says the team has a good attitude, good spirit, and a good future.

Senior Girls Grab Championship Title

Coached by Miss Val Stamper, the ninth grade girls' basketball team captured the city championship with a record of 11 wins and 1 loss. After 9 wins the girls lost a heartbreaking game against Eddy by 1 point, as their only defeat. The team was exceptionally strong this season against North, our arch rival, by defeating them with large marginal scores 2 out of 3 games.

Missy Leckie was elected Most Valuable Player of this season, while Donna Mikolaiczik was elected Most Improved Player. Beth Hoffmann and Jenny Hare were elected Best Offensive and Defensive Players, respectively. At the closing of their successful season, the entire team attended an honor's banquet with their parents. They truly kept the winning spirit of '76.

Rebel Eighth Grade Girls Strive To Win First Game

South's eighth grade Rebel basketball team finished the season with an embarrassing 0-12 record. Although they tried extremely hard they just couldn't seem to pull it off.

Coach Carol Dawson and student manager Chris McGrath also put a lot of time and effort in with the girls to become the fine players that they are this far. Next year when they have had a season behind them and have worked together they can start off with a good attitude and feeling of playing with their other teammates with satisfaction to become South's number one team.

Girls Keep Winning Spirit: Take First

Coach Val Stamper selected a volleyball team of twenty girls that proved they could be a winning team.

The girls took first place alone this year with a record of 9 wins and 1 loss to receive the title of city champions.

Donna Mikolaiczik had some comments on the season, "We tried really hard this year and through hard work and playing as a team we showed everyone that we could go all the way."

South Captures Championship In Baseball

South ended its baseball season with, for the ninth year in succession, the Junior High City Championship. South accomplished this feat by winning seven and losing only one game.

The baseball team is made up of seventh, eighth, and ninth graders. Most of the playing was done by ninth graders, although seventh and eighth graders did play in some of the games.

South's only defeat came after a hard fought game against Webber. The final score was 2 to 1.

South's Rebels Take Action

South's track team had a fine performance despite ending the season in fifth place, with no wins, four losses, and one tie. The season's score ended at 32 1/2 points. During the course of the season three records were broken. Dan Meier stretched his record in the shotput with a throw of 59 feet. Al Derheim cut three seconds from the mile run with a final time of 5:03.0.

Kip Thomas set his mark in the 440 yard dash with a time of 0:57.8. Other fine performances were: Dave Smith with second place in the shot-put, Doug Thornhill with a fifth in the 440 yard dash. The mile relay team ended with a third place.

Rebels Fight To Keep The Pace

As the SIS BOOM goes to press this year's senior swim team is anticipating a great season in the pool. With a little hope and a lot of hard work we expect more records to be broken.

The junior team is working hard and may have a momentous season to carry on our Rebel spirit.

The senior and junior divers are drilling hard to prepare for the future meets. The senior divers are testing dives that they have never tried before and the junior divers are trying to do as much as possible.

Girls Keep On Winning

The girls' swim team, coached by Miss Carol Dawson, showed their fine ability in different kinds of races, relays, and diving. There were fine performances made by all swimmers during the season. The girls put forth much effort in hopes of defeating their competition. The senior team broke city junior high records at the first meet in 4 out of 5 events. The records broken were: 400 free style, 200 free style, 200 backstroke, and 200 Individual Medley. The junior swim team broke the 200 free style, and the 200 Individual Medley record.

South's spirit was helped along this year by the cheerleaders and the pom pon girls.

The cheerleaders, under Miss Evelyn Vassaw and Mrs. Judy Brown, were chosen in the fall. They worked hard and did very well at the games. Some of them attended the S.S. Peter and Paul High School Invitational where they won first place for "Most Original Cheer."

For the pom pon girls under the direction of Mrs. Margaret Tenney, this year was a learning experience. They went through several of the hardships of forming a new group, but came through with many fine performances during the games. They also had a guest performance at SVSC.

The pom pon girls are: BOTTOM ROW: S. Kuhlman, K. Fitzgerald, C. Killmer, T. Knapp, K. Lee, S. DeCorte, P. Young. SECOND ROW: Manager M. Tenney, K. Pierrie, D. Phillips, M. Abbott, L. Thompson, G. # Bicentennial SIS BOOM Concludes Year

With all of the construction taking place, South has had it's difficulties, but is has also added a new band shell, several new classrooms, and opened new horizons for South School.

As we bring this Bicentennial year to a close the SIS BOOM staff would like to express their appreciation to many people who made this yearbook possible. To Holly Federspiel for her fine artwork on the cover; Chris Roe, Lexie Dewey, Pauline Sanchez, Jimmy Pepin, Laura Matta, Lorraine Anderson, Julie Proux, Laurie Filicowzski and Miss Brown's art classes for their artwork; Mr. Ekelof for his cooperation, Werkema Studios on behalf of their services; and a special thanks to Mrs. Helen Sparks, our advisor, for the many long hours she spent directing us.

The '75-'76 journalism staff consists of the following ninth graders: Tom Parrent, Dawn Sharp, Linda Harper, Jackie Kelman, Kim Suppes, Ann Trogan, Lisa Shubitowski, Cathy Eisch, Perry Rose, and John Blodgett.
